

ICES meets FIG

ICES president Ken Hall and CEO Bill Pryke met with FIG president Stig Enemark in December last year to look at how to improve the global profile of surveyors.

Two meetings were held, which were also attended by RICS president Max Croft, Diane Dumashie, chair of the RICS FIG delegation and James Kavanagh, director of RICS Land, covering how the organisations can work more closely together on such common issues.

They went on to look at FIG's increasing co-operation with the UN on land tenure policies.

While in London, Stig Enemark also took the chance attend the RICS Geomatics Christmas lecture given by Mike Cooper, a previous chair of FIG's commission on positioning.

The traffic in Hanoi is dominated by scooters – Gethin Roberts advises when crossing the road "never to look any of the moped riders in the eye as they veer towards you."

FIG in Vietnam

FIG's 7th regional conference Spatial Data Serving People: Land Governance and the Environment - Building the Capacity was held in Hanoi, Vietnam in October 2009. Over 450 delegates from 40 different countries attended to take part in over 40 technical sessions and hear almost 200 papers and presentations.

The conference was organised locally by the Vietnam Association of Geodesy, Cartography and Remote Sensing, with additional meetings organised by the UN's Food and Agriculture Organisation. ICES vice president Gethin Roberts attended as the institution's delegate for commissions 5 and 6, which cover positioning and engineering surveys. Over the course of the week, the commissions covered:

- Disaster risk management.
- Mapping, aerial survey and remote sensing.
- Asia Pacific Reference Frame.
- Engineering applications of GNSS and standards.
- Advances in GNSS positioning.
- Coastal zone issues.
- Sensors and data processing.
- Environmental monitoring and protection.

The conference proceedings can be found at www.fig.net/pub/vietnam/index.htm FIG has a free repository of papers from all its recent conferences in the Surveyors Reference Library on its website.
